Dear Valued Customers,

RE: Hurricane Michael and SNF Riceboro GA Closing

SNF Headquarters and Manufacturing in Riceboro GA is preparing for Hurricane Michael that will impact our area during the evening of Wednesday, October 10th and the morning of Thursday October 11th. The storm is expected to bring high winds, heavy rains and possible power outages to the region.

For the safety of our employees, SNF will curtail most Riceboro operations and shipping from midnight on Wednesday, October 10th till noon on Thursday October 11th. Similarly, our administrative offices will close at normal time on Wednesday, October 10th and delay opening till noon on Thursday October 11th.

All other manufacturing sites, warehouses, hubs and terminal operations will continue to operate as normal.

Assuming conditions are safe for return, we plan to resume operations and shipping from Riceboro by noon on Thursday October 11th. However, due to the unknown extent of damage from the storm, we would request you visit our website at www.snf.us for updates as needed.

We will have a number of employees with laptop computers who will monitor and enter e-mailed orders as best we can. Therefore, you may continue to place your orders to your normal Customer Service e-mail accounts and we will monitor and respond to those requests as quickly as possible. We will also monitor voice mail and fax if possible.

We thank you for your patience, understanding, and mutual concern for the safety of our employees and our surrounding communities.

Sincerely,

Lee Rogers
Director, Customer Service & Logistics
